Florida and Missouri Mandatory Policy Information

Florida and Missouri law requires insurers to furnish their principal place of address and phone number (the "Required Information") in the policy. The Florida law (Florida statute 627.4131) does not apply to surplus lines insurers. The Missouri law (Missouri statute 375.924) does apply to surplus lines insurers.

This requirement may be satisfied by having the Required Information appear on the Declarations Page or attach the following document to the Declarations Page of the policy.

Please review your policies to ensure that they contain the Required Information.

If a policy is issued to an insured domiciled in Florida and it does not contain the Required Information, you must attach the following Florida Addendum to the Declarations to the policy.

"FL - Addendum to Declarations.dc

If a policy is issued to an insured domiciled in Missouri and it does not contain the Required Information, you must attach the following Missouri Addendum to the Declarations to the policy.

MO-AddendumTo
TheDeclarations.d

Until all systems are updated you will manually need to attach the appropriate form to your policies.

Please contact your program manager with any questions.
